Cutting-edge meets the water’s edge.

With award-winning architecture and an unparalleled waterfront location, the Scripps Seaside Forum offers a tasteful blend of function and style that celebrates Southern California’s unrivaled coastal environment. The facility pairs warm, inviting interiors with powerful state-of-the-art audio-visual equipment ranging from high definition 3-D projection systems, multiple computer connections, audio surround sound, user-friendly touch-screen controls, and full teleconferencing capabilities.

Consisting of a multi-purpose auditorium with balcony, four separate ocean view conference rooms, breakout areas, and an outdoor garden plaza to enjoy the fresh ocean air, the Scripps Seaside Forum will meet your every event need.

With stunning coastal views and modern facilities, this venue offers the ideal setting for corporate events such as meetings and conferences as well as social events such as weddings and galas.
The Scripps Seaside Forum is an example of Scripps Institution of Oceanography’s commitment to sustainability and the environment. The entire facility is designed with energy efficiency in mind:

- Drought-tolerant landscaping
- Carpet made from recycled material
- Plantation-grown interior and exterior teak

Events Inspired by Nature

Let our ocean and earth science mission enhance your event

YOUR EVENT AT the Robert Paine Scripps Forum for Science, Society and the Environment (Scripps Seaside Forum) not only brings you close to the beauty of the sea, it places you at the heart of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography campus, energized by great scientific minds working every day to understand our oceans and our planet.

Since 1903, Scripps Institution of Oceanography at UC San Diego has built a legacy of exploration and discovery, leading efforts to fully investigate the oceans, solid earth, and atmosphere. Scripps scientists have sailed to tropical islands and ventured under polar ice, observing environments and their inhabitants, collecting specimens and samples, and recording voluminous data for laboratory analysis. Today, Scripps is an international leader in seeking scientific understanding of the globe.
